The One Loft Race is open to all adult participants. The organizers can validly participate.

Adult participants under protective measures must be validly represented.

Participants are not required to be pigeon fanciers. Non-pigeon fanciers can also choose a pigeon, meeting the above-mentioned qualities, from another pigeon fancier.

It is possible to operate as a team, that is to say to register a team of several pigeons under the name of several owners.

Pigeons will only be accepted with the following documents duly completed: registration form, bank details, transfer certificate, pedigree and ownership card and on the condition that their registration is actually paid.

The registration form must include the following information, or be subject to the invalidity of the registration

Each pigeon must be presented with its ownership card as well as its pedigree (genealogy), which must include 2 complete generations (father, mother and grandparents), if this is not the case, the registration is still authorized but during the auction of the pigeon, the participant will not receive any percentage of the sale price.

The registration of pigeons entails their transfer to the organizer. The latter cannot be held responsible for loss, death, illness or injury.

The organizer may refuse the registration of a pigeon if he considers that its state of health is not compliant.

Pigeons must be at least 40 days old at the time of delivery.

Registrations close on March 31, 2025 at 8 p.m. or when 1500 pigeons have been registered (in total).

Registration will only be considered valid and effective after receipt of all the documents referred to in article 2 above and receipt of the registration price.

Any registration that is incomplete or does not meet the conditions of participation cannot be taken into account. Pigeons with incomplete registration or not meeting the conditions of participation will not be able to participate in training or races and the sale price will be paid in full to the organizing association.

The registration price is 100 euros per pigeon.

Any bank charges, which would be applied when paying for registration by transfer to the organizer's bank account, will remain the responsibility of the participants.

Article 4: Competition rules

To ensure the health of the pigeons, as well as the quarantine time, vaccination and immunization, the loft will receive the pigeons only on days specified in advance between February 15, 2025 and March 31, 2025. Dates and time schedules for these days will be announced at least 15 days in advance on loftpirate.com and the Loft Pirate Facebook page.

To ensure that this obligation is respected, the organizer will himself vaccinate the pigeons against paramyxovirus and rotavirus as soon as they are received at the loft, and he will assume financial responsibility for the cost.

The pigeons will be housed in a dovecote, designed to ensure equal living conditions for each pigeon. They will live on perches; the sexes will not be separated and techniques will be used to slow down the onset of moulting as much as possible.

The organizer reserves the right not to basket a pigeon for training, races or the final race due to injury, health concerns, poor form, loss or death. Pigeons not basketed on the day of the final will also be auctioned at the same time as the finalist pigeons if their condition is restored according to the skills of the organizers.

In the event of injury or health problem, at any time, a pigeon can be transferred to the infirmary and will only leave when its state of health allows it according to the skills of the organizers, and if necessary, with the advice of an animal health professional.

To ensure that training takes place in optimal conditions, the organizer can decide to release the pigeons in several groups.

For races however, the release will obviously happen all together.

The duration of the races, that is to say the end of the evaluation, ends the day before the next basketing at 8 p.m.

The pigeon basketing and evaluation system is an electronic system called Benzing approved by the French Pigeon Federation. All pigeons will be fitted with a chip ring from the first training. In the event of a failure of the electronic system or a power failure / outage, the race in progress will be canceled.

All basketings and evaluations will be visible and accessible live on the oneloftrace.live website, and projected at the finish location, at the address of the organizing association, on the day of the final.

Visits to the loft must be justified and requested from the organizer at least 7 days in advance. The organizer will meet the applicant on days and times that do not interfere with the organization of the loft. Under no circumstances may participants ask (the organizers) to handle the pigeons, nor to enter the pigeons' living space.

Article 5: Races and trainings calendar

All trainings and races planned in the flight line may be modified, postponed or canceled, their distances shortened for weather reasons, due to the physical conditions of the pigeons or exceptional circumstances.

The organizer cannot be held responsible if, for weather reasons, the physical conditions of the pigeons, or in the event of force majeure, the training and races planned in the flight line have to be modified, postponed or canceled, and if the date, release location or distance of the final race have to be changed.

Article 6: ACE Pigeon

For a pigeon to be classified in the ACE Pigeon ranking, it must have been classified in the five races of the One Loft Race.

The calculation is done based on the average speed of the pigeon over the five races, the classification is then done by decreasing speed. It means that the pigeon with the greatest average speed is the 1st ACE Pigeon.

In the final race, the ACE Pigeon ranking ends at 9 p.m. on the day of arrival. Except under exceptional circumstances where the organizer may decide to extend the duration of calculation of the AS Pigeon within the limit of 24 hours after the arrival of the first pigeon.

During the 4 races preceding the final, the ACE Pigeon classification ends 8 hours after the arrival of the first pigeon.

In the event of draw after the ACE Pigeon ranking, the pigeon with the best ranking in the final race will be the winner of the ACE Pigeon.

The results will be visible live on the oneloftrace.live website and projected at the place of arrival, at the address of the organizing association, on the day of the final.
